

Law Offices in Cambridge

Law Offices in Cambridge - Entertainment, Media & Sports law regulates activities in the broadcasting and telecommunication trades. Our firm represents the client's interests before tribunals and commissions utilizing the multidisciplinary approach demanded by this complicated field of law.

Our clientele includes individuals such as artists, entertainers and professional athletes. We provide them with services associated to tax planning, contract negotiation; dispute settlement and intellectual property protection.

We work closely with professionals in our Corporate/Commercial, Corporate Finance, Technology & Communications and Tax Groups to structure and carry out financing arrangements. Our clients include producers of motion pictures, theatrical works and television programs. We even represent and advise organizations that are in the process of acquiring or expanding telecommunication networks and cable systems.