

Family Law Firms Cambridge

Family Law Firms Cambridge - Divorce and child custody disputes could be confusing and emotional times. Even marriage could be stressful and confusing. The law is designed to protect you, but for people who are facing major changes in their lives, there can be feelings of vulnerability and fear.

Our Family Law practitioners provide sound legal recommendation based on our extensive experience helping individuals in your situation. We can help you to understand what lies ahead and what actions have to be done.

We assist our clients to prepare cohabitation agreements, separation agreements and marriage contracts. We help with fields of property or pension division and child or spousal support. We are available if you need a a restraining order, a divorce, child custody and access assistance, a change of name or paternity help.

Our lawyers have the expertise and knowledge to help you get the result you deserve. In situations requiring specialized knowledge, our Family Law lawyers work closely along with our professionals in other practice fields, such as business law and estate planning.

The objective of our company is to help you acquire a fair, timely solution by means of skilled negotiation. We also have a well seasoned Trial Counsel to represent you before the courts, in situations where negotiation is not successful.