

Divorce Lawyer Cambridge

Divorce Lawyer Cambridge - When handling divorce or separation, it is really easy to get overwhelmed. The division of property and potential child/spousal support and access along with the burden and emotional stress can make it a really traumatic event. Because the choices made all through this particular time may affect the rest of your life, it is sensible to have an impartial party there who can make certain you are given as much information as possible concerning the consequences of your decisions.

There are various ways to be able to resolve family problems, consisting of mediation, negotiation, collaborative family law and the Court process.

Our firm believes that whichever marital issues have to be resolved outside the courtroom. This saves money and is possibly the most effective method. A written, fair agreement can be reached by our skilled lawyers via negotiation.

We can provide you with knowledgeable and experienced representation if for any reason you cannot avoid going to court.

During "Collaborative Family Law", each spouse hires a lawyer specifically skilled in collaborative law. Each party and their lawyer agrees that they will not go to court and sign a contract saying they would attempt and settle the issues through negotiation. Most of the work is spent with both parties and their lawyers present and negotiating between themselves.

Depending upon the needs of the family, Clinical Counselors or Registered Psychologists can be involved in the proceedings. Should the case require it, we also encourage the use of a child specialist to be able to help arrange a parenting plan along with assisting with any problems about the children's mental well being.

Collaborative family law, when undergoing divorce, which enables the parties to come to their own resolutions. We provide professionals to help make certain that the separation goes as smooth as possible, and in order to assist handle the extreme emotional feelings experienced throughout the procedure.