

Cambridge Family Law

Cambridge Family Law - Family breakups could result in a lot of emotional stress for everybody involved. Family law within this country consists of several different pieces of legislation. Our family law lawyer would navigate the complexities of family law for you, and help you to be able to know the relevant legislation as it applies to your particular situation.

We have an objective at our office to enable you to reach an amicable solutions to the high costs associated with the court procedure. Sometimes these negotiations however do not achieve the desired outcome. If it becomes required, we will help you throughout each and every step of the court procedure so as to attain the best possible result.

We offer services related to the preparation of marriage contracts and cohabitation agreements, divorce (contested or uncontested), preparation and negotiation of separation agreements, and resolution of matters pertaining to property division, custody, access, child and spousal support.