

Cambridge Family Lawyers

Cambridge Family Lawyers - Our family law practitioners assist clients going through the breakdown of a marriage or common-law relationship with services and advice associated to divorce, business valuation, prenuptial agreements, and various legal issues. When marital-type relationships falter, clients require sound advice and assistance with respect to agreements governing their business and personal assets.

In order to minimize the resulting disruptions and to lessen costs for our clients, we work to resolve the many issues using a combination of common sense and resourcefulness. Alternate dispute resolutions or direct negotiation are commonly adequate to solve family issues. Nonetheless, when appropriate, family law problems can proceed to court.

Divorce Settlements

We have family law professionals helping clients in obtaining divorce settlements. The property division and spousal support issues which accompany divorce are dealt with by our skilled family law practitioners. The law governing spousal support is constantly evolving and complicated. Clients depend on knowledgeable legal assistance in this area to be able to protect their interests. Increasingly, cohabitation and separation agreements are subject to review and variation in the courts.

Business Valuations

Occasionally divorce proceedings would normally comprise business holdings needing numerous key assets which must be divided. Provide a proper evaluation of the assets is important for an appropriate disposition, for the purpose of dividing these assets. Our family law company works together with the correct professionals to ensure the correct valuation of clients' business holdings.

Prenuptial Agreements

Clients might opt for prenuptial agreements to be able to maintain their premarital assets and to better ensure the implementation of the parties' intentions in the event that the marriage should fail. Our family law practitioners provide recommendation on and structure prenuptial agreements.

Estate Litigation

A crucial part of our family law practice is in the defense of challenges to family trusts. Divorce proceedings could put family trust assets at risk. Estate litigators act to protect and preserve family trust assets when a marriage dissolves.

Mobility Rights

Following the dissolution of a marriage, the rights of parents to access and mobility might be compromised. Some of these problems comprise the ability of a parent to relocate in a different province, country or city along with a child of the marriage. Family law works to make sure that the client's rights are protected and considered.
