

Personal Injury Law Firm Cambridge

Personal Injury Law Firm Cambridge - Our Technology Law group can provide you with innovative legal solutions, whether your company is in the process of starting up, on the verge of commercializing a new technology or already a successful enterprise. Our company's value-based services will help you develop and sell innovative products.

Our lawyers offer assistance on a wide range of legal issues which affect the technology businesses today. This can involve all phases in the development of your technology firm, particularly securing patent, trademark and copyright protection. We understand the value of your intellectual property. We would carefully craft joint venture agreements and financing arrangements to be able to guarantee that you have the flexibility to manage your research well and proceed to commercialization. We pay special attention to licensing agreements, production arrangements and strategic alliances to guarantee that you acquire the maximum benefit possible from your intellectual property.

For business arrangements for technology services, we give special consideration. Some of our services will include the preparing licensing agreements, software implementation and development agreements, software maintenance and support agreements, data centre and service bureau agreements, distribution and marketing agreements and hardware maintenance and purchase agreements. We perform project reviews and rescues, and give advice regarding the legal aspects of e-commerce initiatives. We also provide guidance during the negotiation and implementation of agreements for the procurement of technology services and software.
