

Cambridge Law Firms

Cambridge Law Firms - Our team of administrative lawyer's works on various problems associated to tribunals and regulatory agencies for our clients who include: companies, not-for-profit organizations, governments and individuals. Our lawyers act for clients before commissions and tribunals about problems related to information and privacy, gaming and liquor, human rights, water quality safety, and insurance.

Our firm's lawyers are skilled at handling inquiry boards and different administrative tribunals that exist for workplace safety and health and environmental law. We provide structure compliance-based transaction strategies and provide initial due diligence. We have numerous years of knowledge acting for clients before administrative law decision-makers. Our lawyers also bring to the table valuable adjudicative experience via helping as arbitrators and mediators.
